GNOME.Asia Summit 2019

Gresik, Indonesia
October, 12–13 2019

GNOME.Asia Summit 2019, Gresik - Indonesia

GNOME is one of the popular free desktop environments that are widely used as popular distributions such as Ubuntu, Debian, and even Red Hat. Gnome is also the parent of several other popular desktop environment derivatives such as pantheon and cinnamon. GNOME has 3 major conferences, one of which is GNOME.Asia Summit for Asia and 2 of them are GUADEC for Europe and GNOME LAS for America. This conference is usually held on 2 consecutive days, will be discussed in the series of GNOME technology itself, open source and some supporting technologies.

The organization of GNOME.Asia Summit is divided into several parts; (a) public conferences and (b) parallel workshops / classes. This event itself will be attended by the foundation board, contributors and users. They will provide testimonials, GNOME's latest developments, and share GNOME implementation methods in various fields. Conference like this will provide new knowledge for the participants.

GNOME.Asia Summit 2019, this time will be held in the city of Gresik, an industrial city, west of the city of Surabaya. A great opportunity to be able to meet GNOME contributors and users throughout Asia and even the world to be able to share experiences.

GNOME.Asia Summit on average has attracted more than 200 users, software developers, business professionals, media, students and government officials, including 30 more speakers from around the world.
